

26 miles

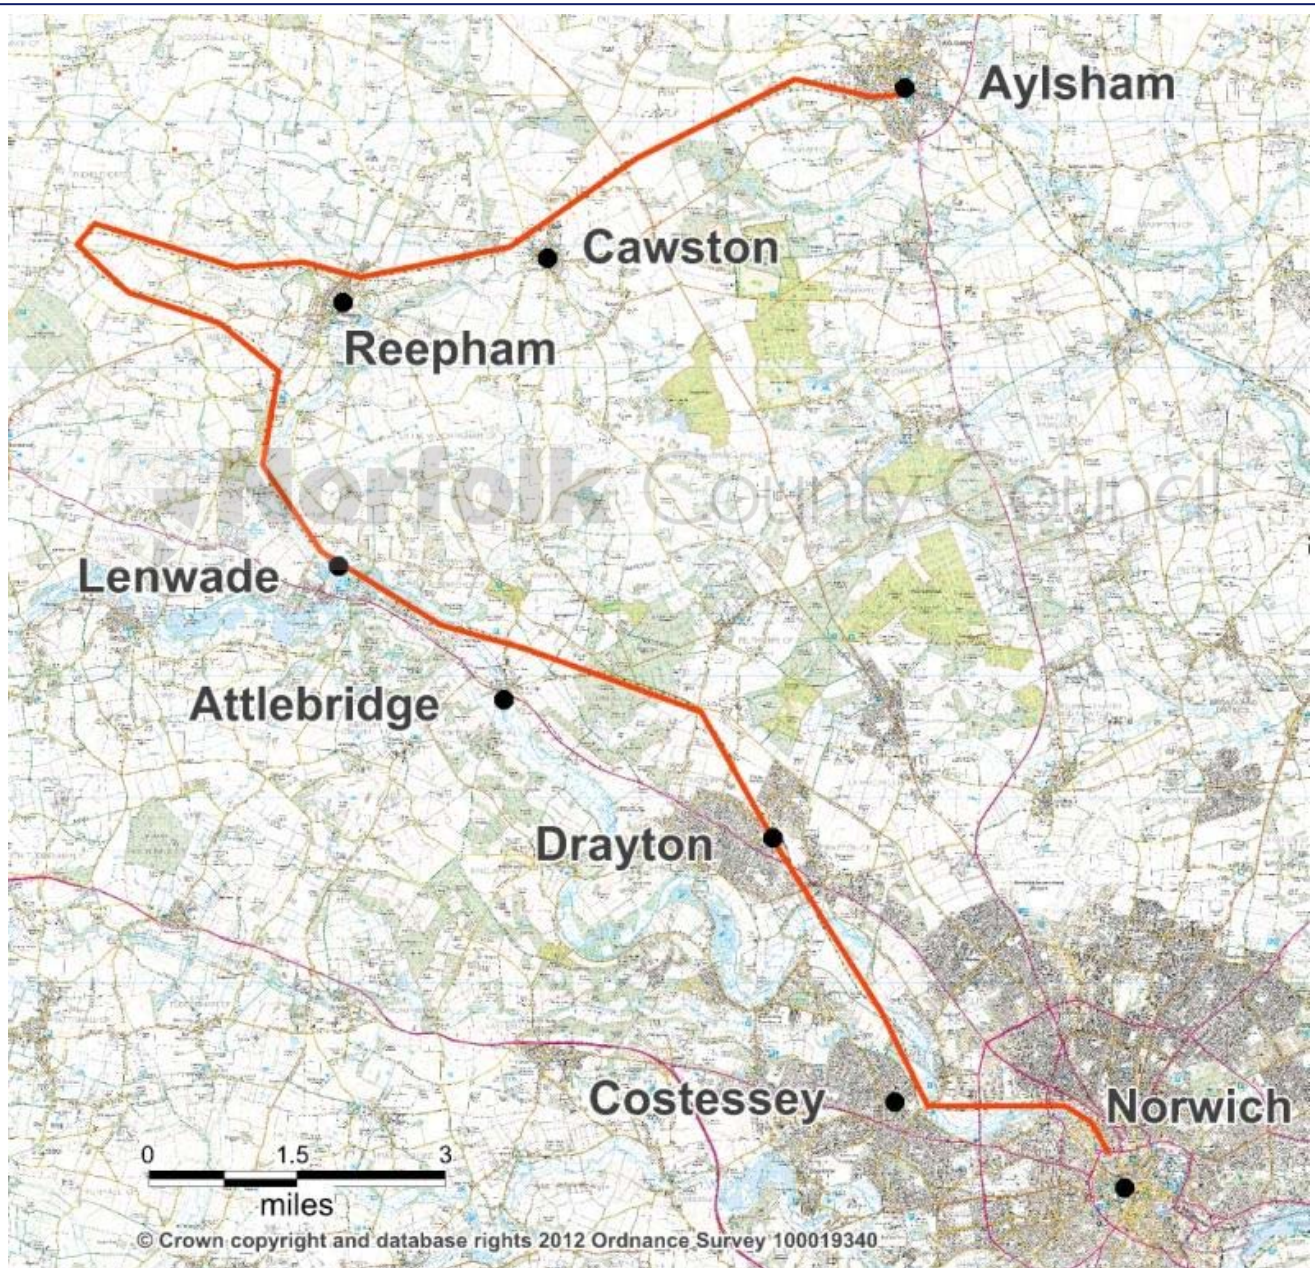

Marriott's Way

Marriott's Way is a 26 mile footpath, bridleway and cycle route which follows the routes of two disused railway lines, running between the historic market town of Aylsham and the medieval city of Norwich.

The route is named after the chief engineer and manager of the Midland and Great Northern Railway system, William Marriott.

Wonderful countryside, wildlife, public art and a wealth of local history can be found along the way.

For more information see www.norfolk.gov.uk/marriottsway