

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

This network of routes around the villages of Ingoldisthorpe and Dersingham provide many opportunities for walking and horseriding across farmland, linking with existing minor rights of way. Conservation work here includes provision of wildlife strips, some of which are rich in chalk grassland species, while others provide a food source for farmland birds such as the English partridge that are more numerous here than most other parts of the country.

CRoW Act Open Access
(See smallprint below)

This access is provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, helping farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Country Code & local signs. CRoW Open Access is provided under the CRoW Act 2000 and gives rights of access to open country (For details & restrictions see www.countrysideaccess.gov.uk). Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care. People using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 31st January 2020.

For access related queries please call the Environmental Stewardship Permissive Access Team on 0300 060 1114 (Office Hours).
